My dear friend:

I presume you will be surprised to hear that I visit Washington once more. As you may know that I have not been, for sometime, able to come to this city, on account of my eyes, and I believe even now it is wise for me to travel such a distance. I shall never forget my troubles during the earlier days of reservation life. Your kind assistance rendered at that time I shall never forget. The events & associations of those days came back to me when I arrive here and wish to write you a few lines. I have not taken much part in affairs of the reservation recent years, but I desire to make this my last appeal to the Government to fulfil all the provisions of the treaties that were made with us. I can not say how long I shall be here, but probably two weeks or so. I trust that you may be able to render me some assistance again. That is, I would like to have you write to your Senators here to help me all they can - That's all. I remain

Your faithful friend,
