Happy New Year! With this the first number for 1964, the separation of the NEWS and the JOURNAL begins its sixth year. The Editor and the Committee wish all members everywhere the best possible success for the coming year.

F. Martin Brown has a grant for studying the type material of W. H. Edwards, and a series of papers will appear shortly, which should be of great benefit to students of the taxonomy of North American Butterflies.

Research Notice: Several stocks of Atteva floridana and Atteva punctella (aurea in Holland) (Yponomeutidae) needed for experimental work. North American Rhopalocera (New England, Colorado) offered in exchange. Will also exchange for pinned specimens of any Atteva species (Old World or New World). C. R. Taylor, Jr., Dept. of Zoology and Entomology, University of Connecticut, Storrs, Conn., U. S. A.

The booklet, Moths of the Woodside, has been so well received that it is now available in printed form, with twenty-five photographs and illustrations. It explains the use of "black light" for catching moths, has time charts of development, larval food plants, and methods of rearing and housing larvae. Available from: Colleen Seeley, 47 Woodside Ave., Oneonta, N.Y., U.S.A. Price $1.25 U. S. A.

Julian P. Donahue has received an NSF Graduate Fellowship for the study of the butterflies of India. The butterflies under study include a collection of 16,000 specimens, mostly obtained during his residence in India. Mr. Donahue wishes to say that the work on Indian Lycaenidae by Sir Keith Cantlie, which was ordered by some members, is ready except for binding, after which it will be distributed. In addition, there remain only two copies of Wynter-Blyth's Butterflies of the Indian Region, for sale at $7.00 U.S.A. ($7.50 Foreign) postpaid. Members desiring a copy should write to Julian P. Donahue, Dept. of Entomology, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich. 48823, U.S.A.

Paul Opler is currently engaged in a statistical revision of the genus Euchloe (Pieridae), at San Jose State College, San Jose, Calif.

In response to requests as to a dealer in labels who is reliable, L. Don Richardson, THE NATURE COMPANY, Box 625, Winfield, Kansas, is available. Illness in his family has for a short time delayed certain orders, but he is now again operating on a full scale. Mr. Richardson has expressed an interest in joining the Society and it is expected that his notices will shortly appear in the NEWS. His labels appear to be satisfactory in every way. This notice is given as a service to the membership.

The Lepidopterorum Catalogus, edited by Embrik Strand, is available from the Zentral-Antiquariat der Deutschen Demokratischen Republik at DM 1.656 (1,565 Danish Marks).

The North German Entomologists held a meeting at Keil on November 9 & 10, 1963, hosted by the Zoological Institute of the University, Dr. A. Remane, Director, and by the Ecological Society of Schlesig-Holstein, Dr. D. König, President. An excellent program was presented by distinguished speakers.

A Tauschtag ("Exchange Day") for Entomologists was held in Stuttgart on the 5-6 of October 1963. At the evening get-together the featured speakers were Dr. K. W. Harde and Dr. G. Reiss.

The Entomological Society of Basel held its Thirty-eighth Tauschtag in Basel on October 13, 1963.
