Auburn, N.Y.
April 29th, 1874

Dear Sir,

Your courteous favor of the 26th is at hand and I am obliged for your prompt attention to my troublesome inquiry. I enclose you a catalogue of my letter collection, which I think will give you a good idea of its merit, as it might have made it much larger.
if I had not rejected all American, except those that were perfect. The foreign forms are all rather small as you will see by the measurements given, but the English ones are excellent. Those from Ireland are the ordinary "bolts," with which you are of course familiar. The order forms of English wild maple ments predominate, but I think there are all moderately good.

I should consider the lot worth about three hundred dol-ars ($) from the time labor and freight I have expended in getting it together. I am however often to corrections should you think any estimate too come, I certainly would not undertake to replace it for that sum. I shall be gratified if you will let me hear from you again.

Your obdt servt,
