Wash., Dec. 29, 1862

My dear Mrs. Perine,

Your notice
for Guiteau will be a shock this Spring, and you are to so at one tomorrow (for) the “other method” used for different circumstances.
Between now and then,
this is an essay to remember.

Your friend,

Charles Mordecai
Wash. Dec 29

Dear Professor Marsh,

Here is the card, postmarked.

Now then, come to my office, just a block from Wombleys.

150 S St. up stairs, at a quarter before one, and sleep with Mr. Henry in the U.S. Marshal's residence for a seat.

Yours truly,

Charles, Northrup
