Dear Sir,

A few days ago I found, on the Platte River below this place an Indian Mummy in an excellent state of preservation. It appears to have been an infant of two months of age, has a good head of hair, perfectly natural appearing, the features remarkably well preserved, and the toe nails & finger nails plainly marked. The entire form...
It is present in a good state of preservation.
Please let me know whether the above would be of any value to you and if so what it would be worth.

Hoping to hear from you soon I am

yours very respectfully
