Prof Marsh.
Sir I

forward. those points and about 20 other specimens The stone head is of very ancient-date. I will have two more stone heads soon that are better than this one.
I have a lot of stones that are very interesting, but they are too large for this box. I think I will send them by sea, together with those skulls. I see a fine spec. a few days ago the gardian wanted ten dollars for it - it is said to be handed down for a long time back it will weigh about two pounds. has two dogs

Carved on top with their Claws grasping the bowl and a good imitation of human feet on the under part. Taken altogether it is a great piece of work.

I told the Gardian to keep it - I would write to you and see if you want it.
I have been compelled to postpone these skulls for a while. the Indians are watching all the time.

Do you wish me to continue gathering such articles for you. My Gopher, Skalk is limited as yet, but I am picking up gradually.

Yours as usual,

J. W. Evans.

Professor O. Co. Marsh.

The Reading matter that we talked of has come to hand in good shape and the young folks feel very much pleased over their magazines. for which you will ever be remembered. that package of specimens that I forwarded I have not heard from. I had hoped to received returns before now. the delay most likely is caused by the Post-masters, we have more collections that we expect to make this spring. we have quite a quantity on hand now.
I will procure everything that will be of value to you as fast as possible

With Respects

J. M. Evans
