My dear Sir:

On the first day of this month, having entered your private room at the Peabody Museum with Professor Michelson in order to ask Professor Mendenhall to accompany us, I heard you tell the latter that you especially desired to be in possession of all facts bearing upon the subject under discussion, but that you could not promise to accept the advice which he had given. I knew nothing of the matter under discussion but ~~had~~^{received} a perfectly distinct impression that Professor Mendenhall had failed to persuade you to agree with his views.

7351

Yours sincerely

Charles S. Hastings
