My dear Professor,

The Archaeological collection of the late C. C. Jones of Augusta Ga. is for sale. Mr Jones last June & shortly before his death wrote me that it was the most complete collection of its kind in the South. He offered it to me then at $7,500 dollars. His son & executor has lately sent me a catalogue of the collection & offers it at $5,000⁺ dollars now.

I have looked it over carefully and find there are over 17,000 specimens all of which with the exception of it already, you might deem it of sufficient importance to acquire it & trust to the future to get paid back. At any rate I would like to have your opinion on the subject. It seems a pity that these really good collections should never find their way to Yale. I remain

I append a condensed list of what the collection contains - I had it in mind to try & raise by subscription among Yale men in N.Y. the amount necessary to buy this collection & present it to the Yale Museum. I found however that it was impossible to raise any money in the present business depression, I am feeling the effects of it also and am unable to buy it. At the same time knowing how deficient the Museum is in this department & thinking
